Washington, July 22.—Fresh successes for the American forces in their drive between the Aisne and the Marne were reported in Gen. Pershing's communique yesterday, received today at the War Department. The Americans were driving ahead with undiminished vigor and spirit, the statement says. More than 6000 prisoners, over 100 cannon and many trench mortars and machine guns have been taken by American Divisions in the last few days, on the Aisne-Marne front, Gen. Pershing reports. This is accepted, as meaning that the reference in Saturday's statement to 17,000 prisoners included captured by both French and American units.

Strong counter attacks delivered last night by the Germans on the front between the Oureq and the Marne were broken by the Allies, the War Office announced today. The allied positions have been maintained. Enemy blows were delivered in the region of Gisors, seven miles north-west of Chateaufort-Thierry north of the Oureq and between the Marne and the Rheims. The enemy's action was limited to artillery fire. The fire was particularly notable in the region of the woods of Curten and Bol.

ADMIT FAILURE OF THE DRIVE AT PARIS

Amsterdam, July 22.—Chagrin has been evoked in Germany by the latest events in the West. This is clearly reflected in a dispatch to the Cologne Gazette Saturday in which its Berlin correspondent writes:

"False hopes were perhaps planted at home in the launching of this new offensive. It cannot be the aim of every single war operation to attain definite objectives in all circumstances. The victorious operations of the first week of July gave rise to various presumptions in the minds of the people which do not agree with the previous actual conditions, nor with those of today. We will not refer to those who knew precisely that Von Hindenburg would carry out an attack on Paris. We have no reason to condemn the fact. There were dangers among the German troops who used their knowledge of the planned operations to betray the fatherland and their comrades."

After referring to the entire counter-offensive, the correspondent says:

"The foregoing shows that not only east of Rheims but also on the Marne we are confronted with difficult tasks and Von Hindenburg will in this situation not satisfy some of the strategists."

"It need not be concealed that the aim of the recent offensive has remained unattainable, but new conditions now all the more urgently demand fresh decisions, to which we look forward with strained attention but also with patience."

NO MORE 25 POUND SALES OF SUGAR

Boston, July 22.—With a hope to avoid a severe shortage of sugar later in the year, the state food administration today put into effect a drastic curtailment in the amount of that commodity allowed both retailers and customers. Retailers will have their former allowances reduced fifty per cent and there will hereafter be no sales in 25 pound lots for canning and preserving. "Retailers," says the letter which has been sent to the trade, "should impress upon their customers that fruit can be safely preserved in water packed without sugar, the sweetening to be added at the time of consumption."

DOVER

Dover, July 22.—At a special meeting of the city council held last evening it was voted to accept the bequest of $5,000 to the city under the will of the late Jeremy Bellamy Guppy, for the establishing of a swimming pool and the maintenance of the same. One hundred and fifty dollars of this legacy was set aside to investigate the flow of water in Guppy park and to ascertain whether it was adequate to supply a swimming pool. The council also authorized the mayor to purchase the Towle field on Silver street, to be used by the city as a park. The mayor was also instructed to purchase a lot of land bordering on the Belany river from Hon. George S. Frost. The latter property will be used for a park and swimming pool. After several months of investigation and upon petition of Marjorie Sullivan chapter, D. A. R., and the Society of Colonial Wars of New Hampshire it was decided that the city should take over the old Walden burying ground in the rear of St. John's Methodist Episcopal church. A search of the records proved that the city had no right to assume control of the ground and the committee having this matter under consideration secured the assent of the parties interested in the burying lot to give the city a quit claim deed of the premises. The burying ground will now be turned over to the trustees of Pine Hill cemetery.

Rollins vs. Stephen Brock of Wolfeboro, the defendant now a resident of this city. This was the fourth trial of the case, which was ordered by the supreme court to be tried before Judge Marble. Brock bought of Agnes Gilman for $2,400 a farm in Wolfeboro paying down $1,000 a condition being that she could sell the pine and hemlock growth, but instead a deal was made with Rollins for the entire farm. Rollins offered to sell back to Brock the farm, reserving the pine and hemlock growth and 500 rock maple trees, which was practically the livelihood of the farm. The counsel for the defendant filed a cross bill, in which Judge S. W. Abbott, E. B. Hobbs, Mrs. Agnes Gilman and Charles S. ## BLACKSMITHS AT NAVY YARD PROTEST

Boston, July 22.—Certain members of the supervisory force at the Boston navy yard were bitterly assailed at a special meeting of navy yard blacksmiths, belonging to local 405, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, at 955 Washington street, Saturday. The removal of these men will be requested from Washington; also the establishment of the new rates of wages, that the navy claim they are entitled to and which they declare have not been granted thus far.

According to President Frank Tully of local 405 the navy yard members petitioned for the special meeting, which was held for the sole purpose of discussing among themselves with their union officers the alleged "domineering attitude of certain of their supervisors" and the "non-establishment of their new rates of wages at the yard."

It is understood that there is so much dissatisfaction over the alleged over-bearing attitude of these supervisors that more drastic action may result unless the atmosphere is cleared in the respect and the wage rates the men feel they are entitled to established. International Organizer Walter Chase addressed the members.

During the meeting President Tully received a telegram from the International instructing him to leave at once for Springfield, to adjust the grievances of members employed there in shops of the B. & A.

Orleans, Mass., July 21.—A German submarine attacked the tug Pertha and four barges, three miles off this shore on the south elbow of Cape Cod at 10:30 this forenoon. The one-sided battle lasted one and a half hours. The tug was burned to the water edge, the barges Lancford, No. 765, No. 423 and 749 were sunk by gunfire. The barges were from Gloucester for New York and one was loaded with stone. Of the forty-one persons, including three women and five children who were aboard, all were saved. Captain Charles Anisley of the Lancford, and John Botovick and John Vitoz, both Austrians, were wounded. Botovick still has one arm, and Vitoz had a hand blown off. They were sent to the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. Captain Anisley was wounded in both arms with shrapnel and he was treated at the summer home of Dr. J. Dunford Taylor.

The attack was witnessed by a large number of the natives and summer visitors here for the week end and all accounts agree that the shooting of the submarine was bad. According to Captain Anisley the submarine launched three torpedoes at the tug, each one going wide of its mark.

The attack was within a few miles of the Naval aviation station at Chatham, and the submarine was attacked by three hydroplanes with bombs, the first was returned by the submarine which kept the aviators well in the air, but finally the submarine submerged and when last seen was heading south.

Tonight the tug is still afloat and she can be saved. The net result was the loss of the three barges valued at $20,000, the burning of the tug valued at $100,000. The submarine used three torpedoes, which estimated to have cost Germany $15,000, and a great amount of ammunition.

The appearance of the raider so near the shore and the rip caused amazement among the natives and shipping men, rather than consternation. They could not understand why she should come so close to a place with empty barges, but it was reported that she was probably looking for the big collars.

A tug boat four miles off shore had the submarine while she waited for her unsuspected prey.

The women and children were taken from the barges in small boats and suffered no bodily harm, one woman fainting as she was lowered into the small boat. A lad eleven years old, when the submarine began firing, grabbed a flag and waved it frantically at the U-boat, and he was still holding it proudly when he was landed on the beach.

MUST HAVE MORE LOCOMOTIVES

Washington, July 21.—In the light of experience with transportation difficulties during the winter of 1917-18, chiefs of the United States railroad administration consider that additional locomotives are more necessary now than additional freight cars.

Discussing the decision recently announced to build 100,000 new cars for American railroads during the present year, railroad administration officials say the number was fixed only after every locomotive that existing facilities could turn out during the next year had been ordered.

"It was not a shortage of cars that brought about congestion in the past," it is said at the Railroad Administration. "In fact, so many cars got jammed up in terminals that they nearly blocked transportation themselves. The shortage was in motive power. So in considering the matter this year, when the war industries board fixed the amount of steel which it would allot to railroad use, we insisted that the engine shops every pound that there was a reasonable chance of getting into new locomotive this year. Any engine builder who can increase his capacity can still get orders."

"After that, an estimate of the amount of steel available was made, and as many cars as can come out of it were ordered. That happened to be 100,000. They are of a composite steel and wood design, adopted because it will get more cars out of the steel supply. Only the event itself will show but we consider that the construction ordered will be sufficient to meet the strains, throughout of our calculations are based upon an increased traffic burden for railroads next year."

John D. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, a Chicago publication, using the example of the Shannon Thompson, chief of the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics, has made a prediction that the new car construction will not obviate a shortage when crop and coal movements pile upon railroads after October. He declares that 125,000 freight cars are worn out and junked annually each year by American roads, and that during recent years new construction has failed to keep pace with wastage. There were 1,672 fewer freight cars in use on American railroads in 1917 than there were at the beginning of 1911, he concludes, placing the present total at approximately 2,500,000. This total, he asserts, is 1,000,000 short of the number required to handle the freight.

"The original shortage which was responsible mainly for the chaos of last winter, will have to be increased rather than decreased," he said in a statement upon the administration's car building program, "and at that I have not seen recent conferences at Washington that cars have, not that fuel is in short supply but that as they might have been."

"On March 1, 1916, for the first time for 1-1/2 years, the American Railway Association reported a net shortage of cars. This was due mainly to weather conditions, and to an acute congestion at Eastern ports. It disappeared, and did not return for five months. On September 1, 1918, however, a new shortage was reported again, and net shortages varying from 31,000 to 132,000 cars have been reported every month since. This unbroken continuance of car shortage for more than 20 months is without precedent in the history of American railroading. The car shortage is again on the ascendancy now, and will assuredly reach its peak early in October when the crop movement together with the coal traffic will further augment the demands upon the railroads."

HEARD GUN FIRE OFF THE COAST

People along Rye Beach and even at Kittery Point heard gun fire during the forenoon and well into the afternoon, coming from apparently well off the coast. At Salisbury Beach people there could see naval aviators flying off the coast. They were unable to account for the guns and the aviators until it became known that a submarine had sunk four coal barges off Orleans, Cape Cod during the morning.

This brought out great activity on this part of the coast patrol boats and the aviators and they undoubtedly did fire guns. If they suspected for a second that any floating object was a periscope.

NORTH HAMPTON

North Hampton, July 20.—A fine showing has been made by the War Savings Stamp committee of this town. Irving W. Marston, chairman of the committee, dressed as Uncle Sam, and Miss Dora McNeil and Miss Anne Lord, dressed as the Goddess of Liberty, made a house to house canvass securing $4,125 in stamps. This amount is being added to each day by people who failed to pick up at the time of the visitation of the committee.

The Dayston Brewing Company of Boston, which has recently purchased the large French farm, is intending to make extensive improvements under the direction of W. F. Gray, who is acting foreman and manager. The farm is to be known as the Forest Hills Farm.

Austin J. Norton has been called to the colors and will report on July 21. Wellington Moulton is working at the Navy Yard.

The young ladies of this town, who have been so successful in giving entertainments for the Red Cross in neighboring towns, will present their concert force, "The North Hampton Shakespearean Club," at Hampton Falls Tuesday evening, July 23, in the Town Hall for the benefit of the Red Cross of that town. New jokes and songs will be used.

BASE BALL TO CONTINUE FOR A FEW DAYS

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, July 21.—While indications tonight were that the season will be closed in the Major league as a result of the decision of Secretary Baer classifying base ball as non-essential, orders were issued today to continue until further notice.

The American league manager, the majority of whom are in favor of closing their parks at once, will meet tomorrow with President Dan Johnson. The National league the majority of the owners of which are opposed to closing the parks will meet Wednesday at New York, although chairman of the National Commission sought to have the meeting in Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

The American league closed their season and have awarded the pennant to the Kansas city team.

MADE BIG HAUL OF BOOZE RUNNERS

County Solicitor W. H. Sleeper with Deputy Sheriffs made a haul of the day state and made some important captures. One man who was on his way to Berlin, N. H., had 200 quarts of whiskey. It is said that he had been making trips via Nashua, but Saturday night changed to this route and was caught.

The automobiles were held up at Smithtown and at Hampton and about thirty odd machines were found to have more or less liquor on board. There were many other cars searched but practically all of the cars from this city got by as they did not have any liquor.

The arrested people were all taken into Kittery and they will be arraigned there this morning.

The shipment of a limited number of motor cars also has been resumed.

BIG TRAVEL ON SUNDAY

With a return of the warm weather and no rain, not even a shower, the rush for the week end and especially Sunday was very heavy, the best of the season. The rush to the beaches was heavy by every form of transportation, the electric cars, automobiles and even teams.

The auto traffic was especially heavy but no accident other than a few slight collisions were reported.

MAY SETTLE SHOE STRIKE

(By Associated Press)
Providence, Mass., July 21.—Prospects for a settlement of the strike of the shoe cutters which is holding up some million pairs of shoes for the army, was better tonight. The leaders of the gutters decided to accept the suggestion of the factory managers that the strikers vote by the Australian ballot whether they will return to work pending the adjustment of their demands for almost a fifty per cent increase in wages.

Fruit Stealing Should Be Stopped.

A Connecticut newspaper warmly commends a judge who imposed a substantial fine on a boy convicted of stealing fruit, and declares that this action on the part of the court lays the foundation of a hope for a better state of things. Says the newspaper: "There is nothing meaner than robbing an orchard, except, perhaps, stealing chickens. On the other hand, while few judges can be found who will let off a chicken thief, plenty of them will smile at the fruit robber and say they used to do it, too."

In the old days fruit stealing was great sport for boys and was engaged in chiefly for the sake of sport. There were no theatres or other places of entertainment for country boys, and to get out after dark and rob fruit trees was regarded by the average boy as the choicest kind of sport. In nine cases out of ten fruit was rolling on the ground at the homes of the boys who made these night raids on the neighbors' orchards or dooryards. The dooryard was usually preferred, for the nearer the young culprits could come to being caught and yet manage to escape, the better they liked it. And in a majority of cases the fruit they stole would have rolled on the ground if they had not stolen it.

But conditions are different today, especially in cities and towns, where people who take the trouble to raise a little fruit in their back yards feel that they are entitled to it, and are deeply aggrieved when they get up in the morning to find their trees stripped, and in many cases seriously damaged by breaking. These people regard their fruit as property, which it is, and they are clearly entitled to the protection of the law.

The growing of fruit in gardens and back yards is to be commended and should be encouraged in every possible way. But there is no encouragement when the trees are stripped by thieves and the courts take the view that the trouble is merely the result of boyish pranks and not to be taken seriously.

For this reason it is proper that the courts should deal with this offense with reasonable severity. No one wants a boy hanged or stood up before a firing squad for stealing fruit, or even sent to jail except in extreme cases, but boys convicted of robbing their neighbors' fruit trees should be taught that this is no longer regarded as a semi-innocent and permissible sport, and this the courts should make plain when young miscreants are brought before them for offenses of this character.

The old days have gone and conditions are changed. Stealing is stealing in any case, but the raiding of dooryards and gardens is a very different matter from a nocturnal visit to a country orchard, where in favorable seasons altogether too much of the product is allowed to rot on the ground. The people in the cities and villages have use for what fruit they can raise and are entitled to all the protection the courts can give them.

Stock salesmen are still busy trying to exchange their offerings for Liberty Bonds. This paper some time ago warned the holders of bonds to be on their guard against these slick operators, and now official warning is being sounded by the Liberty Loan Committee of New England. Those who fail to heed this warning will subject themselves to the possibility of grievous disappointment and loss. Liberty bonds are good property, and those who have them will do well to hang to them.

It is said that Vermonters have twelve million pounds of maple sugar stored up and are not worrying about any possible sugar famine. It is amazing how they can have such a stock on hand when the common supposition is that all the maple sugar and syrup in the country come from the Green Mountain state.

Dr. Fred S. Towle has shown the right spirit by offering his services to the government and has been promptly commissioned as captain in the Medical Reserve Corps. When he is called to the service a valuable man will be added to the corps and the best wishes of the people of Portsmouth will go with him.

There is room for a great improvement in conditions at the local railroad station and if they are not soon forthcoming there will be general and loud complaint. The traveling public is entitled to reasonable accommodations, and where these are lacking there is something wrong.

Rear Admiral Wood of the First Naval District will hereafter insist on typewritten signatures to naval communications. And there are many outside of the naval service who would make a similar demand on their correspondents if they had the authority.

The Allies took the enemy by surprise on July 4. But the big surprise is coming later.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Where Peace Talk Must Begin

(From the New York World)

Peace talk that starts in the workshops and homes of Germany and Austria will get more attention from the Allies than that which comes from the Chancelleries.

A Sinister Heirloom

(From the Baltimore American)

Generations of Germans yet unborn will have to hear how their forefathers sunk hospital ships and waged war on the cross of humanity. Let the living Germans pause to contemplate the heritage they are leaving their children.

Dancing To His Piping

(From the Philadelphia Press, Rep.)

President Wilson has picked out J. Ham Lewis to run for the Senate again in Illinois, having also provided a candidate for the Democrats of Michigan. Meanwhile, over in New Jersey, the President's party are floundering around, and apparently getting no kind of instructions about what they must do.

(From the New York World)

Edward P. Ripley, who after long service has resigned the presidency of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, has a distinguished record as a successful master of transportation. He was not a product of Wall Street. He was exceedingly conservative. He often complained of what other people called progress in the regulation of public instrumentalities, but he never wrecked a railroad. He created one.

"Magnificent, But Not War"

(From the New York Herald)

The War Department questions the accuracy of the translation of that alleged message of an unidentified American general who is made to refer to "our masters, the French," and who is put in the position of disobeying orders. The whole story may be fiction; but assuming the truth, it may be said that in it there is more truth than wisdom. A commanding officer who regards it "unendurable" that the American flag should retreat when military wisdom calls for withdrawal is a rather dangerous person to be entrusted with responsibility for the lives of soldiers who are in France to be used where they can be of most use. However, the thrill is there, all right.

Sweeney Got His Hound

(From the Worcester Telegram)

The foxhound is a necessary dog while the war goes on. John Sweeney of Yorktown, N. Y., has proved that. He is a chicken farmer. Foxes did not allow his broods a fair chance to live and thrive. He learned that he could get the fastest foxhound in Ohio for $10, an old dog that cost hands. Then he found the first fence in his way. No express company could bring him the hound, because Government business must come first, to win the war. Sweeney sat down and thought a good deal. He must have that hound to keep the foxes away from the chickens, because the little feathered bits meant food for the soldiers to win the war with. He sent that argument to Post Administrator Hoover, and won a convert. The problem was considered by others, including the food boss of Ohio, and Sweeney got the hound, after a long series of letters had been exchanged through the postoffice system.

They Would Not Understand

(From the New York Sun)

The following message sent to the French on Monday afternoon, was written by "an American general in command of the American forces south of the Marne":

We regret being unable on this occasion to follow the counsel of our masters, the French, but the American flag has been forced to retire. This is unendurable, and none of our soldiers would understand their not being asked to do whatever is necessary to repair a situation which is humiliating to us and unacceptable to our country's honor. We are going to counter-attack.

The American troops did counter-attack and recovered the lost ground although they had been advised that it was of no great strategic value and that they took an additional "half-mile" from the Germans.

This courteous message to a brave ally gently rejecting his counsel, but ever so politely explaining the reason why, is one of the documents of this war that will go into the school histories. Since Joffre's order at the Marne nothing finer has come from a soldier's pen.

"None of our soldiers would understand." The tribute to the Americans, penned in all modesty by their commander, reaches the sublime.

"Everybody Welcome; Everything Free"

(From the New York Herald)

At the Victory Convention of the Knights of Columbus, to be held in this city beginning August 6, a cheque for approximately $500,000 will be presented to the organization as New York city's preliminary contribution to the war work of the Knights, this being the amount raised during the recent Catholic War Fund drive. It is confidently expected that the organization, which was 400,000 members in the United States, will expend $50,000,000 in war work this year, and contributors can have the satisfaction of knowing that it will be well spent in American Camps the Knights have about 230 club houses and buildings; the organization will have 1,000 secretaries in Europe before September 15 and 2,000 before the end of the year. Secretaries and Chaplains are being sent abroad as fast as transportation can be arranged, and from "over there" come enthusiastic reports of the cheer which American soldiers regardless of creed or color find in the K. of C. huts and barracks erected in all parts of France where American soldiers are serving.

A Companion in Lines

(From the New York Sun)

Early in the war, before the munitions makers in the United States had organized their plants, before a single American-made shell had been fired by a British or French gunner at a German position, the German people were informed officially and categorically that only ammunition exported from this country kept the Allied armies in the field.

In this country German propagandists spread reports of German classification of shell fragments of each indexed records showing exactly when and where American missiles were used, who used them and what destruction they wrought.

We were told, always by Germans, that the production of our war factor—anything produced in England, France or Italy—was immeasurably superior to the Kaiser's and that because of this the Kaiser would one day bring us to account for the grave injury we had done the German nation.

What was before the United States entered the war.

Now we are in the war, and the Germans tell a different story. The military authority who illuminates the minds of the readers of the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, proving first that there are no Americans in France, then that the American soldiers in France are of no use as soldiers, finally concludes that "the American fighting men cannot be properly equipped because the American war material manufacturers are swindlers."

It is scarcely worth while to try to keep abreast of German falsehoods, but it is well occasionally to check up the lies of today against the lies of yesterday, and thus obtain a comprehensive notion of the falseness of the whole German Government of today and of its numerous official and unofficial spokesmen.

Our "War of Mobs"

(From the New York Herald)

Von Moltke said contemptuously that our Civil War was but a "war of mobs," and certainly neither one of the opposing armies could bear comparison with the highly trained instrument of efficient brutality that so fittingly reflects German character.

There were of primitive people in the Kaiser's Higher Command, and it is essential to successful conduct of war. We called Semmes a pirate, yet he spared women and children, as did Sherman, though his march from Atlanta to the sea left a trail of devastation behind him. "War is hell!" cried that soldier, and his words will be echoing down through the ages. How would he have characterized it had he lived to behold the work of the Germans in Belgium and Northern France?

In our dealings with spies and the traitors within our gates we were unquestionably primitive in the days of the Civil War. The country north of Mason and Dixon's line was honey-combed with sedition and copperheads were as thick as flies. The New York Hotel was a veritable nest of Southerners who made no secret of their allegiance to the Confederacy. But save for a little attempt to burn New York those gentry did little but talk possibly because there was no "slush fund" to stimulate their activities.

As regards wholesale internments, the hanging and shooting of hostages and the kidnapping of young women, we deserve the contempt of any modern strategist. At the close of the war but one of our enemies was hanged—and it is interesting now to note—he was a German.

GOES INTO A MANHOLE

(From the New York Herald)

A pair of horses attached to a cart owned by C. W. Badger went into a manhole at the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets this morning. The animal's hind legs went in up to its body. The horse seemed to realize his position and did his part to free himself with the aid of the driver and others who came to the rescue. No bones were broken but the animal's legs were more or less lacerated. The driver was engaged in hauling asphalt to the corner where the Warren Brothers are patching up some of the street.

ORGANIZE JEWISH WELFARE BOARD

Dr. Pool of National Board Makes Inspection of Forts and Navy Yard.

Last evening a meeting was held at the Jewish synagogue in the interest of the community branch of the Jewish Welfare Board, a national organization recognized by the U. S. Government, which ministers to the men of the Jewish faith in the United States army and navy. Dr. David de Sola Pool of New York city, field secretary of the board, who is in this city to assist in organizing the branch, was the speaker of the evening. The Jewish people of the city are showing much enthusiasm in the work and will give it hearty support. The following officers were chosen for the year: President, Mrs. S. M. Cohen; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Cohen; secretary, H. Goldman. The officers of the branch will not only endeavor to aid all possible in the work, but the branch will undertake to do what it can for the families of Jewish young men who have enlisted in the Palestine legion.

BRITISH CONTINUE TO MAKE GAINS

(By Associated Press)

London, July 22.—Further ground has been gained by the British in the Habbema region on the front between Albert and Avesnes, the War Office announced today. The British likewise in conjunction with the French, carried out a successful enterprise to the south of Villers Bretonneux east of Amiens, in which prisoners were taken. The German trenches were altered during the night by British bulldozing parties at several points on the front, and prisoners were taken.

THE ESPERANTO CONGRESS

Ellet, July 22.—The Friday and Saturday sessions of the Esperanto Congress at Green Acre were attended by delegates from ten states, the District of Columbia and Nova Scotia. Dr. P. G. Cottrell of the Bureau of Mines, just returned from government work in Texas, was heartily welcomed. Interesting letters from Europe told of the growth of Esperanto, despite the war. Miss Agnes Alexander gave an account of the remarkable progress of Esperanto in Japan, especially among the blind.

Dr. D. O. S. Lowell, headmaster of the Roxbury Latin School, spoke on the question of introducing Esperanto into the schools, and aroused a most interesting discussion.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by the distribution of an Esperanto translation of ex-president Taft's speech on the aims of the League to Enforce Peace, which was prepared and is being circulated under the auspices of the League.

It was voted to greet the Japanese Esperantists through Miss Alexander, and to send a cordial reply to a letter of greeting from the Argentine Esperantists.

A proposition to invite the 1920 World Congress to meet in Boston was abandoned after discussion; and it was unanimously voted to propose to the European Esperantists that the first post-war World Congress be held at The Hague.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Edward S. Payson of Lexington, Mass.; vice president, Mrs. Isabelle McAtfey Horne of California; secretary-treasurer, Ernest F. Dow, West Newton, Mass.; assistant secretary, Miss E. J. Merula of Boston, Mass.; executive committee: Hon. William S. Gove of Salem, Mass.; Nathan Ward of Cambridge, Miss E. J. Merula of Boston; chairman of standing committees: Examinations, B. W. Reich of Ada, O.; publications, Edward S. Payson of Boston; propaganda, G. Winthrop Lee of Brookline, Mass.; schools, Dr. D. O. S. Lowell of Dorchester.

A pleasant excursion and picnic to York Harbor and Beach, including boat rides up the York River, took place on Friday afternoon. In the evening, Dr. Lowell addressed a number of the guests of the Marshall House on Esperanto, awakening a marked interest.

Saturday evening Edward S. Payson and Miss Pote of the Pate School of Expression, rendered together an Esperanto version of the famous Hamlet-Ophelia scene from Hamlet. Miss Agnes Alexander of Manchester, Miss Agnes Alexander and James F. Morton, Jr. of New York, appeared in a spirited one-act play based on the heroic resistance of Belgium to the German invasion.

On Sunday a Bahai service was held in the Pines, and a religious service in Esperanto was conducted by the Rev. Horace Dutton of Boston. An Esperanto reading by Mr. Payson and a talk by Dr. Cottrell occurred in the evening.

ences in Japan. Lectures will continue to be given on each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3.30 p. m., free to the public. It is expected that Mrs. Grace Ober will give on Wednesday the first of her practical talks and demonstrations on household economy. The Esperanto class, also free to all, meets at 2.30 p. m. on the same days.

WOMEN'S OVERSEA HOSPITALS

That the Women's Oversea Hospitals U. S. A., are rendering distinguished service in the war zone in France is shown by the reports that have come back to the National American Woman Suffrage Association through official sources. Mrs. Raymond Brown, who recently returned from France where she went in the interest of the hospitals, gives an account of tremendous work already accomplished and an even greater program outlined for the immediate future.

New Hampshire is contributing $1000 to this fund which has aroused interest wherever it has been mentioned. The Portsmouth treasurer is Mrs. Joseph Conner of Wilbur Avenue.

The little city of Sabaudyere is larger than Portsmouth and for more than three years there has been no physician resident there. The suffering which has resulted can be readily imagined and this call for help should be readily met by those who are so fortunate as to be far removed from all the horrors of an invaded country.

WHY THE JUMP OF TWO CENTS ON GASOLINE HERE?

Government Allows Half Cent Increase But Portsmouth Dealers Want More.

On the advance of a half-cent on gasoline allowed the producers by the government it jumped from 28 to 30 cents in Portsmouth. Now the question is, who is behind this increase of two cents in the face and eyes of the announcement made by the fuel administration?

There is certainly to follow a protest in this city that will be heard in Washington as soon as possible. It looks like both ends and the middle for some but while the consumers are satisfied with the half cent increase they do not intend that anything is going to get away with the advance from 28 to 30 cents without a fight.

FOR SALE—Glenfield range, perfect condition; a bargain at $25. L. P. Smith, 145 Third street. He j22, 21 Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bam-burger, at the Portsmouth hospital, July 21, a daughter.

OUR GENERAL EDWARDS THE LEADER

Portsmouth friends of Brig. General Clarence E. Edwards were not surprised when they learned that it was his troops and under his direction that the great smash against the Germans was made. General Edwards is a typical Yankee fighter and he made an excellent impression on his visit to Portsmouth when it was decided to locate the Camp at Ayer, Mass. The writer had the pleasure of taking him on a tour of this section and he was delighted with Portsmouth and vicinity.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Died in Washington

Mrs. Ellen Skeel Adee, mother of Paymaster G. M. Adee, formerly located at the local navy yard as an accounting officer, died recently at her home in Washington. She was the widow of the late David Graham Adee, a noted lawyer and writer. She visited Portsmouth several times during the time her son was stationed at the yard.

Want Them Removed

The blacksmiths at the Boston navy yard are engaged in complaints against some members of the supervisory force at that yard and have brought the matter to the attention of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers. It has been voted by the organization to send a remonstrance to Washington for the removal of these men and also ask that the new rates of wages to which the blacksmiths claim they are entitled, but which have not yet been granted, be established at once.

The blacksmiths allege a dominating attitude of certain superiors, "the non-establishment of their new rates of wages," according to President Frank Tully of the union.

BIG MEET OF AUTO DEALERS

Portsmouth automobile dealers expect to meet on Boston Friday, July 26th, in a big mass meeting and luncheon at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, under the auspices of the National Automobile Dealers' Association, of which most New England automobile men are becoming members.

Automobile dealers have done much toward winning the war, loaning their personal credits and the time of their enterprises to the Liberty Loan, War Saving Stamp, Red Cross and other drives, as well as subscribing to the limit of their abilities to these various drives.

The automobile itself, as an efficient business instrument, has done much toward winning the war, saving time and augmenting the transportation service of the heavily overtaxed railroads.

Despite the patriotic attitude of the personnel of the automobile industry, and the vital service rendered by the cars, there has been a disposition at Washington to tax the automobile industry more heavily than most other lines of business.

In common with 28,000 other dealers in the United States, 1500 New England dealers are realizing the necessity of presenting the industry in its proper light to the Ways and Means Committee.

U. S. Senator Henry P. Hollis has caused another surprise among his friends from his quiet disappearance from Washington and Concord. Not even his close friends in political circles are said to have had any idea of the Senator's movements until a cablegram was received in Concord on Saturday.

Navy Department Claims 'Cruiser San Diego Victim of German Mine--Three Known Dead, 47 Missing and 12 Unaccounted For

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 21—The Navy Department announced today that the loss on the armored cruiser San Diego, off Fire Island on Friday forenoon, was three known dead, forty-seven missing and 12 unaccounted for. The Department have not added anything to their statement of the cause of the sinking of the cruiser, holding to their opinion that it was a floating mine dropped by a German submarine.

No casualty list has been issued as yet, the ships list was lost, and the other copy which was mailed from Portsmouth to Washington before the ship sailed is now at Washington and the names will all have to be checked.

The United States Cruiser San Diego, which was sunk Friday off Fire Island, was a victim of a mine planted by a German submarine. This was the declaration last night of Secretary Daniels of the Navy.

The United States Cruiser San Diego, sunk off Fire Island Light on Friday morning, was probably the victim of German mines, laid either by the first U-boat coastal raiders or by a new expedition.

This became evident Saturday after the Navy Department had announced that a group of five or six mines located and exploded in the Fire Island Light vicinity, were not of American manufacture, but instead were of German make.

Captain H. H. Christy, commander of the San Diego, reported to the Navy Department his belief that the ship was torpedoed, in spite of the absence of any positive evidence of the presence of an enemy submarine. It is learned that the captain's report showed that the explosion could have been internal, because there was nothing in the ship at that place to explode. The department also has satisfactory evidence that the ship could not have struck an American mine, so apparently the only possible explanation of the destruction of the ship aside from that of a submarine attack is that she encountered a mine dropped by U-boats before they left the American coast.

The navy department announced today that three men are known to be dead, 47 are missing and 12 are unaccounted for as the result of the sinking of the United States cruiser San Diego last Friday off the Long Island coast. The men unaccounted for are believed to have been on leave.

Names of the three men killed were made public yesterday by the department. One of these, however, reported himself alive at Pensacola. Those missing and unaccounted for follow:

William Henderson Jackson died at the naval hospital Saturday, aged 18 years, 5 months, 20 days. He was a native of Knoxville, Tenn., where the remains were sent on Monday in charge of G. W. Ham.

Martha J. Rand
The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Rand of Rye will be pained to learn of the death of their little daughter Martha on Saturday p. m. July 20th, aged 9 years and 5 days. After an illness of six weeks that baffled the best medical skill obtainable. She was a child of much promise, being quick to perceive, hearted with little effort, and stood at the head of her class at school, where she was companionable and a favorite. She was baptized in the Congregational church June 10, 1911, and was active in the little festivities of her Sunday school, which she had attended from infancy and for the last time Children's Day, on the afternoon of which she was taken sick. At times a little shy, she was still of a playful and sunny disposition. The loss of her many childish manifestations of affection will be a sad addition to the entire household, her parents, a younger brother and sister, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rand. The funeral will be at the home at 2:30 on Wednesday. Friends invited.

PORTLAND MISINFORMED ON WAGES HERE

Some one loaded up a reporter of the Portland Express regarding the price being paid laborers in this city. He got the figures twisted and as a result some of the men who came here to work on housing contracts were dissatisfied. The laborers on the housing contracts are paid 40 cents an hour. Just how the man in Portland got mixed up is a puzzle but he certainly did the men a great injustice.

ALLIES DRIVE GERMANS BACK

(By Associated Press.)

Victories for the allied army in France continues to multiply on the entire 60 miles front from Soissons to Rheims, where the allied troops are fighting with a determination that looks no denial.

As the Germans are steadily given ground, although they are offering stubborn resistance in some of the sectors.

Further goodly sized indentation between troops and almost all of the ground taken by the Germans south of the Marne in the recent drives have been wiped out under the vigorous attacks of the Allies.

Chateau-Thierry which represents the furthest point the Germans have penetrated toward Paris, has been recaptured by the French and also the village of Brastres two miles east and the heights north of the city fell into the hands of the French.

Acting in harmony with the movement by the French on Chateau-Thierry the Americans and French north-west of the city struck a hard blow and broke through the German line, to a distance of three miles. Large numbers of prisoners and supplies were captured and the machine guns of the allied troops mowed down the Germans who sought to offer any resistance, inflicting heavy casualties.

At the Ourq valley, the French are making good and also in the operations southeast of Soissons.

Up to Saturday noon the American troops have captured 17,000 prisoners.

The entire southern bank of the Marne has been cleared of the enemy and the French, British and Italians are now harassing the retreating Germans southwest of Rheims.

The number of British engaged is now known for the first announcement that they were in the battle came on Saturday and it is thought that they are a part of the great reserves of Gen. Foch, which are now being thrown into the battle to keep up the advance of the allies.

With the Chateau-Thierry in the hands of the French and the allies gaining on the northern sector, the flight of the Germans in south near Rheims becomes increasingly dangerous. It would not be surprising that when the full account is taken that the allies have taken a large number of prisoners and great quantities of stores and munitions.

American aviators continued to lead their side to the allies flying well back of the German lines and harassing with machine guns and bombs the retreating Germans. Notable among the American troops are the Indians who are fighting with great spirit and are especially good in scouting.

On none of the other theatre of war has there been any engagements of importance.

POLICE NEWS

Saturday night William M. Berry who is registered as a carpenter was arrested on leaving the Boston and one gallon of whiskey taken from him. He is charged with illegal transportation of liquor and will be turned over to Federal authorities.

CAR TURNED TURTLE NO ONE INJURED

A taxi belonging to the Hilstop Stables, driven by a young man named Downing, was wrecked late Saturday night on the Lafayette road near Newburyport and the occupants had a remarkable escape.

The car turned turtle and it is said rolled over at least twice, and the occupants were pinned under the car which had to be lifted from them. Strange to say that outside of a few minor bruises they were not injured. The car was a complete wreck.

FOUR SONS IN THE WAR

Dover, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carroll of 12 Stark avenue have given all four of their sons to their country to help make the world "safe for democracy." The two youngest, aged respectively 19 and 21, volunteered when America entered the war and are already sergeants. The other two are taking special training for Army service and all are eager to be on the fighting front.

Sergeant John P. of Battery B, 8th United States Artillery, is believed to be on his way "Over There." His last letter to his parents, written about two weeks ago, stated that he was expecting to start within a day or two.

Sergeant James A., the youngest of the family, is with 8th Company, Coast Artillery, at Fort Foster. His mother says he is charming at being kept on this side of the water. He wants to be where the big guns are harvesting Hunns.

Both these boys enlisted in Dover's Militia company, the Stafford Guards, 4th Company, C. A. C. in the spring of 1917. John P. will not be 21 until Sept. 1. He was unwilling to wait for the proposed draft and enlisted in March before war was declared. His younger brother followed his example.

Owen A., who was 23 in June, was sent with other draftees to Hanover six weeks ago for special training. He is taking a course in carpentry. The oldest son, Leo B., aged 21, left this week for Durham as a member of the New Hampshire College training detachment. He is taking the automobile repair course.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll have four nephews also in the service, also some cousins. They have two daughters. They are the second Dover couple to give four sons to the war service, the first being Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy of 15 Payne street.

LOCAL TEAM DEFEATED

The Wallace Shoe Co. base ball team of Rochester, defeated the All Stars of this city on Saturday afternoon in a fast and interesting game. Manager Dow's team played a fast game, but they were unable to hit Crawford. That is with the exception of Clair of the home team who did the Babe Ruth act and walloped out two home runs. They were both clouts. He played a fast game at the hot corner accepting six chances, hard hit balls and regulars. Crawford pitched good ball for the locals, but they bunched their hits in the second and got across two runs. The score by innings:

EXETER

Exeter, July 22.—Subjects of the sermons at the various churches yesterday were: "Seeing the Unseen" by Rev. C. A. Towne at the Baptist church, "A Spreading Plunder," "Healing Bird," by Rev. John D. Leach at the Methodist and "Life a Sacrament" at the Union meeting of the First and the Phillips Congregational churches by Rev. James W. Foster, pastor of the First church.

The Junior League and the Wesleyan Boy Scouts of the Methodist church held an all day outing on the Judy Hill golf links Saturday.

Roy E. Denell, agent of the Rockingham County Farmers' Association, has returned from his vacation trip, which he made to his old home near Syracuse, N. Y. He devoted much time to visiting the various farm bureau agents at New York state and reports normal crops throughout that state.

During the last week more thunder showers have passed over this section than for many years. A good deal of minor damage was done. A large locust was struck in the vicinity of Rockingham Junction. Lightning struck the old Murselles house on upper Front street, causing some damage to the roof and also in the interior. In the same storm a tree was struck in Stratham and the Ford house in Hemlock square, the chimney being hit, throwing bricks across High street.

Mrs. John M. Mallon is visiting relatives in North Hampton this week. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Vickery are among the Exeter people at Hampton Beach for the week.

SHATTUCK DEFEATED ATLANTIC

The base ball teams from the Shattuck and the Atlantic ship yards, went to Dover on Saturday and played at Central Park before a small crowd. The Shattuck team won by a score of 8 to 1, the Atlantic's being unable to hit Donovan of New Haven who pitched for the wooden ship builders. It was a good game, with both teams playing fast ball, the infield of the Shattuck team being especially fast and they gave Donovan great support, keeping the hits down to two, one of which was a long drive to right field by Pierotti which scored the only steel ship builders run.

The score by innings:
Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E

URGE INSIDE WATER ROUTE TO AID N. E.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Representatives of leading shipping and commercial bodies all along the Atlantic coast will attend a hearing here on Tuesday before the United States board of engineers on the subject of an inland waterway canal. These representatives will urge federal supervision and the completion of an intracoastal route from the Cape Cod canal to Newport News, so as to assure a safe inland deep water route for ships of all tonnage.

The need of such a route has become more apparent and insistent because of the congestion of the railroads and the urgent necessity for added facilities in the transportation of coal and other needed supplies into New England, as well as facilities for transporting New England manufactures to the big centres where transshipment can be made.

AVIATOR ON FURLOUGH IS DROWNED

Portland, Me., July 22.—Leslie K. Richardson, aged 25 years, a member of army aviation corps, on furlough in Portland, was drowned Sunday afternoon when he was swept from a boat in which he was fishing with Daniel Foss, assistant keeper of the Two Lights. The two were nearing the shore when a wave struck the boat and knocked Richardson out. He was drowned before Keeper Foss could reach him. His home is in this city and he is survived by a widow and one child.

CROWDER APPEALS TO MEN OF CLASS

Washington, July 21.—Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder has issued an appeal to all men of class 1, calling upon them to begin now their preparation as chosen soldiers to defend the country and not wait until they actually have been called into camp.

"They are urged to interest themselves now in soldiering, to learn something of the different branches of the military service and to fit them selves physically for the rigorous duties of a soldier's life."

"Recruit yourselves as a selected fraternity of active 'patriots,'" says Gen. Crowder, "discourage those who are weak, inspire the indifferent, inform the ignorant. Search out the slackers."

"Have you ever thought that our enemy is attacking us, not only in Europe, but at home? Have you realized that his special attack consists in seeking to make men disloyal here in our own country? Have you tried to discover and suppress the enemy's work here in the peaceful regions of our own homes?"

"It will take some time to make good soldiers out of you. The sooner you start the sooner you will arrive."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

London, July 21.—Simplicity is the order of the day at Buckingham Palace. Strict rationing applies to all meals, owing to the war. At a recent dinner party, among the guests of the King and Queen being the Dowager Marchioness of Londonderry, Captain Sir John and Lady Wood, Admiral Sir John and Lady Kipper, Lord Claud Hamilton and the Countess of Shaftesbury, the menu consisted of turtle soup, fillet of sole, a cold dish, asparagus and strawberries. There were twelve other guests at the dinner. The strawberries were grown in the Royal gardens at Windsor.

New York, July 21.—One of the methods practiced by the German authorities to Germanize Belgium is to force the German language upon Belgian children. This is indicated by an article in the Cologne Gazette, a copy of which has been received here. Ten German schools, the paper says, have been established in Belgium and in addition the children of Germany in Belgium are being gathered in homes for children and instructed in the German language.

Dublin, July 21.—Thomas Lynch, an Irishman who sits as member of Parliament for one of the divisions of London, estimates that the total amount Ireland will have contributed from taxation toward the war by 1919 will be £60,000,000.

London, July 21.—Although four men have been working nearly a year on the British official history of the war they have only reached events which took place in September, 1911. It has been suggested that the force of historians be increased in an effort to bring the work up to date.

New York, July 21.—The latest "U-boat hero" to be extolled in German newspapers is Prince Henry XXXVII, of Rome, who, according to the Cologne Gazette, commanded a submarine which sunk in Italian waters three steamers, among them the transport Sant Anna.

London, July 21.—When the British Trades Union Congress meets at Derby in September for its annual conference, the membership of affiliated unions represented probably will be more than 4,999,999. Arthur Henderson, secretary and recognized leader of the British Labor party, will be present as a delegate.

London, July 21.—"This country will never again have to go through any period of such trial and tribulation as arose from the food shortage which caused the queues in the country last autumn and in February and March," said John Robert Clynes, Acting Food Controller, in the course of a statement recently on the food situation.

Mr. Clynes told of the immense change that has come over the country since a few months ago when he and his chief, Viscount Rhonda, were about to ration the people. "So great is the change that the talk of rationing on food shortages, has passed away, and trade union conferences now and without mentioning food."

"We have to thank our home-farmers, America, for great food supplies," said Mr. Clynes. "She has had marvellous and wonderful days in order to send us more."

TO STRIP WENTWORTH-GARDNER HOUSE?

The New York Herald on Sunday had an article with illustration of the collection of "colonial furniture" of Wallace Nutting, with the statement that Wanamaker of New York had purchased the contents of Mr. Nutting's chain of houses, including the Wentworth-Gardner house of this city. The article also states that the Wentworth-Gardner house is elaborately paneled and that it is understood that the Metropolitan Museum of Arts acquired this and that it would be installed in the Museum as a background for a collection of colonial furniture.

It is also the authority for the statement that the furniture is now being shipped to New York for exhibition.

The Negro Nurses

(From the Louisville Courier-Journal) If the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses is right in believing that the color line has been drawn against them, and that for this reason and no other none of their has been assigned to overseas duty, somebody is very wrong in keeping them at home when "2000 or more are eager to serve."

In the South a good deal of successful nursing has been done by negro women. The qualities and requirements of a nurse are of course universal and requirements almost altogether different from those of an army nurse, but as "graduate nurses" in the sick room the negro women of the South have proved their possession of one of the fundamental requirements, faithfulness to the trust. The unfailing interest of the negro nurse in the patient, her powers of physical endurance and her unselfish willingness to exert those powers fully have made her highly valued.

There is no conceivable reason why negro graduate nurses should not be useful in Europe. There is no feeling in the South that they ought not to be welcomed in such capacity. It should be borne in mind that the belief of the national Association of Colored Graduate Nurses may be erroneous. If that is true their error should be corrected in such a manner that none of the members of the organization might cling to the idea that there has been a disposition to draw the color line.

MAJ. ROOSEVELT WOUNDED

New York, July 21.—Hardly had Theodore Roosevelt received news today confirming the death of his son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, than he received a cablegram from his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., from Paris which stated that his son Major Roosevelt was wounded at the front and removed to the hospital, where by chance his wife was.

The cable message was not very definite. It simply read: "I am wounded, not seriously. Here with me. No danger. No cause for anxiety."

Mr. Roosevelt explained that Mrs. Roosevelt, Jr., was connected with a Red Cross hospital in Paris. It is thought that Major Roosevelt had been wounded at the front and removed to the hospital, where by chance his wife was. No further confirmation has been received by the Roosevelt family and nothing has been heard from the War Department in Washington.

Major Roosevelt, Jr., went to France with the first American soldiers. After seven weeks he was gassed. He refused at that time to go to a hospital. Three weeks ago he was shot for influenza.

The Loyalty Islands, which lie in the Pacific to the east of Australia, are famous for their fine money. The coin, which is taken from behind the ears of the so-called "flying fox" in a nearby large fruit-eating bat, is evenly into cord of various lengths and these constitute the ordinary currency of the islands.

A way to give the United States a sort of birthday present without violating the law against acceptance of gratuities by the Government has been found by William Romaine of San Francisco. He enclosed an unused but cancelled 5-cent postage stamp in a fourth of July note to Postmaster General Holloman, wishing Uncle Sam many happy returns.

"Information" has now been turned "Glad to The Herald."

MOVING HEALTH AND ECONOMY INTO THE KITCHEN

You know what we mean, don't you? A Bohn Syphon Refrigerator! It is first, second and third aids to health, for the lining is one-piece porcelain fused on steel, snow white, all round corners, not a crack or a crevice anywhere in which germs or dirt can lodge.

As for economy, you'll pretty nearly save the price of the refrigerator in ice bills for a couple of seasons. All refrigerating and dry air circulating problems have been figured out and solved by the expert manufacturers.

In buying a refrigerator you should consider health and economy. For your health, it is absolutely essential that a refrigerator be easy to keep clean by means of perfect circulation of dry air. For economy, it should consume as little ice as possible. All these features are available in our refrigerators, because they are constructed scientifically. The saving of ice alone will pay for the initial cost many times over.

ATTEMPTED TO TAKE HIS LIFE WITH A RAZOR

Lost Courage, and Wound
Will Not Prove Fatal.

Arthur Williams, a member of the U. S. Marine Guard, residing on Deer street, attempted to take his life on Sunday by cutting his throat with a razor.

Apparently he lost his courage and failed to finish the rash act. The rash though severe will not prove fatal. Dr. M. A. Higgins was called and rushed him to the Portsmouth Hospital where several stitches were taken. Later Williams was removed to the Naval Hospital.

It is understood that Williams and his wife separated recently and that he gives this as the reason for his attempted suicide. It is evident that the separation figured in the act as Williams held the photo of his wife in one hand while he slashed his throat with the other.

GASOLINE IS RAISED AGAIN

Washington, July 22.—Gasoline is going up again.

The fuel administration announced today it has advised the National Petroleum War Service Committee that "it will not object to an advance of one-half cent a gallon in the wholesale tank wagon market price of gasoline, naphtha and refined oil throughout the entire United States, effective this morning. The reason for this advance is the recent increase in railroad rates throughout the United States. The announcement adds:

"In no instance shall the increase in the wholesale prices of these products be permitted to cause an advance in the price to the consumer of more than one-half cent per gallon, and it is believed that in many cases the present retail margin of profit is ample to permit of the absorption by the retailers of this increase in cost of one-half cent per gallon without any advance in price to the consumer."

LETTER FROM ANOTHER PORTSMOUTH BOY

Somewhere in France, June 12, 1918.

Dear Mother—I am writing you these few lines to let you know that I am well. I lost the last letter you wrote to me, but I intended to answer it before this, but was taken sick and I am in the hospital for about six weeks. I suppose you were worried because I did not write to you. But I was not able to for we met a German gas bomb and it knocked us cold for a while.

I guess I will come out of it all right with the help of the Good Lord. We are hauling from one to three thousand soldiers every day to the front. I don't meet any of the boys from Portsmouth I know, but I have met lots of the soldiers from Ireland, but not one of them are from the part you came from.

I wish you would send me my Uncle Bill's address so I could write to him.

I have been transferred from the 50th Engineers to the 58th Engineers, Co. A, Standard Gauge Operating Battalion, 713 A. P. O. A. B. France.

LOST HIS MONEY AND BANK BOOK WHILE GAMBLING

Loser Squeals on Winner and They Both Land in Court.

Edward Piodzyk and Antoni Stopolits set in for a quiet game of poker at the North End lodging house on Sunday and according to Stopolits own story he was fleeced for fair.

The game was a costly one for both, especially Piodzyk. It appears that everything was coming Piodzyk's way but his opponent at the round table stunk around until he had nothing left but his clothes.

This morning after Stopolits had thought it over during the night he decided to squeal and waited into the police headquarters and ordered the arrest of his brother gambler.

The police brought Piodzyk into court and also the complainant. It appeared from the testimony that Piodzyk hooked Stopolits for 40 bucks and took his bank book. The court took a hand in the game and hit Piodzyk for $100, and costs of $5.04. A sentence of 6 months in jail was suspended.

In addition to what disappeared from Stopolits on Sunday the court today added $10. more and costs of $5.04. They both paid and got away.

SHIPYARD WORKERS WANT LATER TRAIN

Night Men Claim They Are Obligated to Leave Dover Too Early.

A petition bearing the signatures of numerous employees of the L. H. Shattuck Company has been circulated at the plant and will later be forwarded to the Boston and Maine officials for action.

The petition comes from night work men who ask for a change in the train service whereby they will not be obliged to leave Dover at 4:25 in the afternoon for the shipyard.

The men want a later train which will get them to Newington just in time for the night shift.

BUYS CHAPEL STREET HOUSE

TALKED TO THE ENLISTED MEN

Rev. Lucius H. Thayer gave an able talk Sunday afternoon at the meeting for enlisted men held at 5 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building. The address was preceded by a song service and at the close of the meeting a fellowship lunch of fresh doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee was served by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. The doughnuts were genuine home-made, the committee making the entire quantity served and the lunch was much appreciated by the men, a good number being in attendance.

SHATTUCK SHIP YARD NOTES

The Shattuck fans were delighted with their clean-up in Dover on Saturday, that is, the victory, but the cash clean-up was a total of about 30c.

When the war is over the men at this plant ought to make certain that they have won credit. A sure way to do this is to hustle the ships.

More tents and more temporary shacks are going up to accommodate the families of some of the workmen.

CROWDS AT THE TENT

A good number of enlisted men visited the war camp community service tent in the P. A. C. garden on Saturday afternoon. Music for the dancing was furnished by Stanley Gilkey. The cafeteria lunch was started and is sure to be popular. Young women guests at the tent served the enlisted men.
